SEALED INDICTMENT

16 Cr. _____

COUNT ONE
(Wire Fraud)

The Grand Jury charges:

16 CRIM 841 .

Relevant Persons and Entities

1. At all times relevant to this Indictment, Company-1 was an Asian-based manufacturer of computer hardware. Company-1 provided goods and services to various technology companies around the world, and maintained bank accounts based in Asia.

Company-1 was established in or about the late 1980s.

2. At all times relevant to this Indictment, EVALDAS RIMASAUSKAS, the defendant, was a citizen and resident of Lithuania. RIMASAUSKAS served as the sole member of the board of directors of a company ("Company-2") registered and incorporated in the Republic of Latvia by RIMASAUSKAS and others in or about 2013. RIMASAUSKAS opened, maintained, and controlled various accounts at banks located in Latvia and Cyprus in the name of Company-2.

JUDGE DANIELS

3. At all relevant times, Victim-1 was a multinational technology company, specializing in Internet-related services and products, with headquarters in the United States. Victim-1 conducted regular business with Company-1 and regularly engaged in multi-million dollar transactions with Company-1.

4. At all relevant times, Victim-2 was a multinational corporation providing online social media and networking services, with headquarters in the United States. Victim-2 and its subsidiaries conducted regular business with Company-1 and regularly engaged in multi-million dollar transactions with Company-1.

RIMASauskas's Fraudulent Scheme to Steal Over $100 Million Dollars from Victim-1 and Victim-2

5. From at least in or about 2013 through in or about 2015, Evaldas Rimasauskas, the defendant, and others known and unknown, orchestrated a fraudulent business email compromise scheme to deceive various companies, including Victim-1, Victim-2, and certain of their subsidiary companies (collectively the "Victim Companies") into wiring millions of dollars to Company-2 that were, in truth and in fact, intended for Company-1. As part of this fraudulent scheme, Rimasauskas registered and incorporated Company-2 -- which bore the same name as Company-1, and purported to be in the same business as Company-1 -- in Latvia. RIMASAUŠKAS then proceeded to open bank accounts in Company-2's name at banks based in Latvia and Cyprus.

6. Thereafter, EVALDAS RIMASAUŠKAS, the defendant, participated in a fraudulent scheme designed to target companies that regularly conducted business with Company-1. Specifically, as part of the scheme, fraudulent phishing emails were sent to employees and agents of the Victim Companies. These emails purported to be from employees and agents of Company-1, but in truth and in fact, they were not sent or authorized by employees or agents of Company-1. The fraudulent emails were sent from email accounts that were designed to create the false appearance that they were sent by employees and agents of Company-1. The fraudulent emails directed that money the Victim Companies owed Company-1 for legitimate goods and services Company-1 had provided, and which otherwise was to be transferred by the Victim Companies to Company-1's bank accounts in Asia, instead be sent to Company-2's bank accounts in Latvia and Cyprus, which were controlled by RIMASAUŠKAS. Company-2's fraudulent emails succeeded in deceiving the Victim Companies into complying with the fraudulent wiring instructions.

7. After the Victim Companies wired funds intended for Company-1 to Company-2's bank accounts in Latvia and Cyprus, EVALDAS RIMASAUŠKAS, the defendant, caused the transferred funds to be quickly wired into different bank accounts in various locations throughout the world, including Latvia, Cyprus, Slovakia, Lithuania, Hungary, and Hong Kong. These international wire transfers from the Victim Companies' U.S.-based bank accounts to the Company-2 bank accounts, and in turn from the Company-2 bank accounts to various accounts located in a variety of other countries, were made through the use of correspondent bank accounts, including bank accounts located in New York, New York.

8. Forged invoices, contracts, and letters that falsely appeared to have been executed and signed by executives and agents of the Victim Companies, and which bore false corporate stamps embossed with the Victim Companies' names, were used in furtherance of the fraudulent scheme orchestrated by EVALDAS RIMASAUSKAS, the defendant. RIMASAUSKAS caused these fraudulent documents to be submitted to banks in support of the large volume of funds that were being transmitted via wire transfer into the Company-2 bank accounts.

9. In at least one instance, EVALDAS RIMASAUSKAS, the defendant, caused to be sent a fraudulent letter purportedly from Victim-1's bank, falsely asserting that the wire transfers at issue were intended to be transmitted from Victim-1's bank account to a Company-2 bank account, in satisfaction of a purported contract between Victim-1 and Company-2. In truth and in fact, the purported contract between Victim-1 and Company-2 did not exist.

10. Through false and deceptive representations made over the course of the scheme, EVALDAS RIMASAUSKAS, the defendant, caused the Victim Companies to transfer over a hundred million dollars in United States currency from the Victim Companies' bank accounts to Company-2's bank accounts.
